

ABOUT ONE MILLION VOTES CAST SATURDAY

Ballot Box Locked and Sealed and Key Deposited in Bank--Many Vote as Though it was the Last Day of Contest

GREATEST OFFER OF THE CONTEST ANNOUNCED IN THIS ISSUE

All Votes Doubled, Making Each Subscription Worth Just Twice Its Former Value--The Real Chance for Victory

Rushing like unto the famous Niagara, votes piled into the contest office Saturday up to 6 o'clock, practically every contestant being possessed of the idea of getting as close to the top as possible during the final week of the greatest and most liberal contest ever conducted in Utah. The vote was far beyond the expectations of the contest manager and many voted as if it was the last day of the contest instead of the beginning of the last week of the contest and the final counting before the finish. In round numbers about one million votes were cast, and while this seems an enormous number, being in fact the heaviest day's voting since the inauguration of the contest, it does not appear so tremendously large when the fact is taken into consideration that these ballots were divided among several hundred contestants. Many of the contestants must have surely sacrificed their entire reserves in order to be in the public eye during these closing days, and while the wisdom of such a proceeding may be questioned by many, to others it may seem good judgment, as the candidates who adopt this procedure apparently figure that the leading position will bring them in sufficient votes to offset the sacrificing of their reserves. Of course they probably used their own judgment, but as we have said many times before, the reserves are the things that are going to cut a big figure at the finish and in all probability will decide the winners. Voting in this manner gives the opponents of those who did this a knowledge of where these apparently unwisdom stand, and just how much work is needed to pass them at the finish.

Naturally, the announcement that Saturday's count would be the last before the final count by the judges, brought out this big vote. Those who decided to wait and save their accumulation of votes for the last are no doubt the ones that will spring the big surprises at the finish on September 7.

After the counting the ballot box was locked and sealed and the key, deposited in a local bank, there to repose until after the close, then the judges will have it in charge.

LAST COUNT
The votes as they appear today are counted for the last time until the final count made by the judges, Saturday, September 7. The standings as they appear below will not be changed again until after the finish of the contest. If this count is not absolutely correct according to your figures, kindly notify us immediately, that proper correction can be made.

Success Not an Individual Matter.
The success of the contestants in this greatest of Utah's campaigns has now become more than a matter of individual success. It has become a matter of town and community success. Not only are individuals arrayed against one another but entire communities have staked their reputation upon the chances of their favorite candidates and have made up their minds that success shall be theirs if sincere and earnest effort can accomplish this.

Second Payments.
A very fruitful source of votes is stored up in second payments. These are very important and should not be overlooked. For example: A person who subscribed for The Evening Standard at the start of the contest or any time since is considered a new subscriber and will be so considered during the life of the contest. Say, for instance, that such a person subscribed for a month by carrier and paid 75 cents. You received 1400 votes on such a subscription, but by getting this person to pay the balance on a year's subscription, in this case $8.25, you become entitled to 25,000 votes, less the 1400 already received, or 23,600 on the "second payment." This ruling also applies to any second payment that you may secure on daily subscriptions, but nothing less than three months counts. That is, you must secure three months or more on the second payment to entitle you to the additional votes.

SPECIAL RULING

After subscription ballots have once been issued in favor of a candidate they are not transferable to another candidate. Ballots must not be altered in any way, and any ballots which are sold or given by one candidate to another will positively be destroyed by the contest manager. SUBSCRIPTION BALLOTS ARE NOT TRANSFERABLE UNDER ANY CONDITIONS. This is a rule that MUST be observed and anyone violating it will be disqualified.

Office Open Evenings.
Do not lose sight of the fact that the contest office is open all day and up to 7 o'clock in the evenings. No matter during this week of eager striving that some points will arise that will require advice to solve. Here is where you want to call upon us for assistance in solving these problems. If you cannot make your visit during the day, call in the evenings or call us up.

THE LAST THE BEST OF ALL

"And the last was the best of all." This will be the unanimous verdict of the contestants this afternoon when they read this announcement of the doubling of all votes on subscriptions. Beginning Tuesday morning and continuing until 9 o'clock on the night of September 7, the closing night of the contest, the regular scale of votes issued on subscriptions throughout the contest will be doubled, and every subscription turned in during this time will be entitled to just twice the number formerly issued. This means that every subscription that you secure during this time will give you just twice the number that it formerly did, and affords you the opportunity of finishing in a prize-winning position, no matter where you stand at present. This is the biggest, best and most liberal offer of the contest and is the real opportunity for late starters. This offer is positively the last one of the contest and under no conditions will this schedule be changed. The big advertisement on this page gives the new schedule that will be in effect throughout the remainder of the contest and every detail in connection with this offer. By consulting this table of votes you can realize the real worth of your efforts NOW, and see what a little energy rightly expended will do for you. THIS IS TRULY A NEVER-TO-BE-EQUALLED OPPORTUNITY AND POSITIVELY THE LAST ONE OF THE CONTEST.

SURE TO GET MANY VOTES

Rock-Ribbed Vermont Will Give Roosevelt Strong Support

Burlington, Vt., Sept. 2.—If the crowds and cheers which greeted Colonel Roosevelt in Vermont last week are any criterion, this rock-ribbed state will give the Progressive ticket many votes in Tuesday's election.

Last night in the old party gatherings and councils, where the demonstrations of the last three days are being discussed, the leaders declared that these crowds were curiosity seekers.

But curiosity seekers do not fight for places in the front, do not cheer, do not cry "amen" in tremendous choruses, do not have their women folks singing songs, yet these have been the dominant features of the great gatherings.

It looks as if a huge upheaval were only awaiting the opening of the ballot boxes. The bull moose state ticket hasn't a chance of winning, but if it polls from 15,000 to 20,000 votes, with the strength that the Democrats are showing, it means that the election for governor will be thrown into the legislature, for in Vermont a candidate for a state office must have a majority of the votes cast.

Would Claim Victory.

This result would be hailed throughout the country as a triumph for the new party.

Throughout the campaign the Republicans have been on the defensive, repelling the attacks of the Democrats and Progressives on national issues, and of the Prohibitionists and Socialists on the conduct of state affairs.

Interest centers in the contest for governor. The candidates are Allen M. Fletcher of Cavandish, Republican; Harlan B. Howe of St. Johnsbury, Democrat; the Rev. Frazier Metzger of Randolph, Progressive; Clement F. Smith of Morrisville, Prohibition; and Fred W. Suller of Barre, Socialist.

The September election in Vermont is popularly supposed to forecast the result of the presidential election in November, a small Republican majority for the state ticket indicating a Democratic victory.

Results in Former Years.
How the state has forecast November results in seven other presidential years:

Year	Dem.	Rep.
1884*	17,331	22,183
1888	19,527	45,522
1892*	16,325	37,992
1896	14,555	52,425
1900	17,129	48,441
1904	16,576	45,115
1908	15,952	45,598

*Democrats elected president in these two years.

Democratic victory in 1884 and in 1892 was foreshadowed by smaller Republican vote for governor in those years.

Next Tuesday's election, therefore, is awaited with national interest. Cold-blooded judges expect the result will be something like this:

Fletcher (Taft Republican), 25,000.
Metzger (Roosevelt Progressive), 9,000.
Howe (Democrat), 19,000.

HE WOULD KILL ALL SOCIALISTS

Enaville, Ida., Sept. 2.—After shooting John Lundquist, a miner, dead and seriously wounding Lundquist's son-in-law, Silvester, late yesterday, John Louma, a rancher, retreated to his cabin in the hills two miles from here. Early today he was still holding at bay a dozen deputy sheriffs. He has a rifle and is well supplied with ammunition.

Louma opened fire on his victims as they were leaving a Socialist meeting. "I'll get all of you fellows," he cried, "if I have to kill fifty of you."

It is thought he became suddenly insane.
